

Greetings Delegate,

I am [LEADER'S NAME], the [PRESIDENT/PRIME MINISTER/ DICTATOR/ SUPREME OVERLORD] of [COUNTRY NAME]. I am writing to you today to give you a few goals for the following discussions. You will of course be discussing the subject of terrorism, and creating a draft resolution at the end of your second day of debate with the goal of eliminating terrorism. In addition to this, we have another goal for you, which is to be kept secret from fellow delegates.

[INSERT DIRECTIVE]

The above directive will help our country exponentially, and so your goal is to make sure that the draft resolution includes legislature that will achieve it. This will be done through debate; you must convince your fellow delegates that the above stated goal will be beneficial to all, or you risk not having votes on a resolution including it. This must be done, but done quietly. You are not to proclaim to the assembly that you need them to approve of your directive, but rather to bring the nature of the topic into general discussion by finding a link between it and terrorism in general.

Good luck,

[LEADER NAME]
